Hi Hevis-

I'm flying out of Bradley (Hartford, CT) at 2:30pm on Sunday, arriving in DC around 4pm. As for transportation to the lecture on Monday, I'm not positive yet. I noticed on the Hampton Inn website under services and amenities that "Dulles Hotel Connection shuttle will take you anywhere you need to go within a 3 mile radius". Google maps says that it is 2.8, 2.9, or 3.0 miles depending on the route to the DEA Lab, and that's total miles driven, not radius. Haven't figured out the exact distance as a crow flies yet, but I'm sure it is less than 3 miles by looking at it on the map (I'm guessing ~1.5 miles). I figured I'd ask the front desk when I got there what the story is with that. If not, I'm figuring a taxi would be the best. Any other ideas?

We can talk once you get there (I'll be there before you, and you'll still be in the air). My cell is [REDACTED].

Hi Sonja,

Hope you are doing well. I was just wondering what time are you flying out on Sunday, and from which airport? I am flying out of Logan around 4 pm and getting there around 6pm. Also, we have to make arrangements for transportation on Monday to get to the lecture. Give me a call or text me when you're at the hotel if you would like and we can meet up. My cell # is [REDACTED].

See you soon,

Hevis
